VE DAY 2020

Across the parish events are being planned to commemorate this important day. Seventy five years ago the war that had been raging across Europe finally came to a formal end. Many residents will have memories of that day or can recall what they were told by their parents later. One Hughenden Valley resident, Rita Pulley then living in High Wycombe recalls: 'I remember being sent, aged 10, into Wycombe town centre to queue up at Heath & Heather – by the 'Pepper Pot' – to get sheets of gelatine. Mum made jellies and we had a street party for us children with trestle tables and chairs in Jubilee Road, just below where it joins Green Street. Later in the evening there was a band outside the Saracens Head pub and people danced in the street. Sorry, no photos. No camera!'

An end to lockdown?

At the time of writing there is much anticipation that the current lockdown will be eased over the coming weeks. More information should appear on Sunday when the Prime Minister outlines his plans. Whilst a gradual release seems most likely, in readiness for the next meeting of this Group (19th May) it would be helpful to identify any key areas for discussion. For example,

1. As people return to work how might this impact on the number of volunteers?
2. How many self-isolating and vulnerable residents are there within the Parish who may not feel confident to go shopping or even leave their homes?

Spotlight on Hughenden Parish residents

The response to the One Can Trust appeal has been amazing and across all 4 wards of the parish. By the end of today One Can Trust will start receiving the donations from Hughenden residents.

Our younger residents have also taken up the challenge and the Lacey family on Valley Road, Hughenden Valley created a great banner so that no-one would miss their box. Well done! You are STREET HEROES, collecting 365 cans, 37 jars, 33 cartons of milk and lots of dried goods and toiletries.

One Can Trust helped around 159 households in January. By April this has increased to 435. Find out more: <https://bit.ly/3bkZRRr>
